Welcome to Ol Pejeta, and to our handbook, which we hope will ensure you have the best possible experience during your time on Ol Pejeta. As you will see, there are endless opportunities for adventure, with masses of immersive activities that give you proper, one-on-one encounters with this extraordinary corner of the world. Remember to contact Ol Pejeta Escapes for all your reservations!

We also have plenty of amazing places to stay during your visit. Economy travellers and luxury seekers alike will find something to suit their wants and needs. We’ve also got a number of beautiful campsites for those of you who prefer your accommodation a little more al fresco.

On the right, you will find our Code of Conduct, which must be adhered to at all times. Failure to do so may result in fines, being asked to leave or being permanently banned from the Conservancy. These rules are in place to protect you, our wildlife, the environment and our staff, so please do make yourself familiar with them.

You will find a list of contacts within and on the back of this handbook. Please do feel free to contact us if you have any questions, would like to book an activity or make a reservation at Morani’s Bar and Restaurant. Emergency contact details are also on the back – please contact us immediately in the result of any accident or crisis.

Finally, HAVE FUN! We are delighted to have you here with us and hope that you have a wonderful time on Ol Pejeta. Remember, 100% of profits are reinvested into conservation and community development, so your visit isn’t just good for you, it’s good for Kenya’s natural heritage and the people we live alongside.

A ROLE MODEL FOR CONSERVATION
Ol Pejeta Conservancy works to conserve wildlife, provide a sanctuary for great apes and to generate income through wildlife tourism and complimentary enterprises for re-investment in conservation and community development.
Ol Pejeta commits to regular sensitization of all staff on COVID-19 preventive measures as below:

- Frequently clean hands using alcohol-based hand rub or soap and water
- When visiting live markets in areas currently experiencing cases of Covid-19, avoid direct unprotected contact with live animals and surfaces that have been in contact with animals
- Observe social distancing. Avoid close contact with anyone who has a fever and cough
- The consumption of raw or undercooked animal products should be avoided. Raw meat, milk or animal organs should be handled with care to avoid cross-contamination with uncooked foods, as per good food safety practices
- If you have fever, cough and difficulty breathing, seek medical care early and share previous travel history with your health care provider
- When coughing and sneezing cover mouth and nose with flexed elbow or tissue – dispose of any tissue used immediately and wash hands

Ol Pejeta Conservancy will continue to review policies and measures in place based on Government directives and emerging protocols as may arise.

STAY SAFE
Another lap won in the race against time and in time of COVID: Northern white rhino rescue programme resumes work with successful egg harvest

Nairobi, Kenya - After a few months hiatus owing to the global COVID-19 pandemic, the international team of scientists and conservationists was able to continue its ambitious programme to save the northern white rhino from extinction: On August 18, 2020 they harvested 10 eggs from the last remaining two individuals, Najin and Fatu, in the third-ever ovum pickup procedure in northern white rhinos at Ol Pejeta Conservancy in Kenya.

With great support from the Kenya Wildlife Service and Kenyan Ministry of Tourism and Wildlife, the team from the German Leibniz Institute for Zoo- and Wildlife Research (Leibniz-IZW) and Czech Safari Park Dvůr Králové overcame substantial challenges to perform this important procedure in such critical times. Preparations for the next steps in the programme – the generation and transfer of embryos – are underway, ensuring that everything is done not to lose any more precious time saving the northern white rhinos from the brink of extinction.

“The progress made so far in the northern white rhino assisted reproduction project is very encouraging, and we look forward to the transfer of the already developed embryos into southern white rhino surrogate females here at Ol Pejeta Conservancy. This project should galvanize the world’s attention to the plight of endangered species and make us avoid actions that undermine law enforcement and fuel demand for the rhino horn” says Hon. Najib Balala, Kenya’s Cabinet Secretary for Tourism and Wildlife.
A SUCCESSFUL REUNITING FOR YOUNG JOB0

Last year, we shared with you the sad news of an acute bacterial pneumonia outbreak that had hit our chimpanzee sanctuary and led to the loss of sisters Angela and Ajabu, leaving one-year-old Jobo without a mother. Chimpanzees have complex social structures and the team at Sweetwaters have had to take Jobo’s re-introduction to some of the maternal chimpanzees really slowly to avoid any upset, and make sure Jobo is safe. After a long, gentle process, Jobo is now fully integrated back into the group. Cheetah, Sultana, Saidia and Julia took a liking to him and have finally embraced him which is essential if the other chimpanzees – especially the males – are to accept him into the group too.

Thank you so much to Mary Clark who donated a hammock for Jobo, which he absolutely loves. You can make a difference too – by adopting a chimpanzee.
