Tourism and wildlife Cabinet Secretary (CSs) Najib Balala said that the collaboration will build a strong brand association between Magical Kenya and Kenya Airways and thus increase the destination’s appeal to more consumers in all the market segments. “Aviation is a critical pillar of our tourism industry and therefore partnerships such as this one are important to ensure that we continue to arouse the interest of travellers into the destination. It is especially important at this point in time as we work towards recovering tourism fully and attracting international visitors to magical kenya.”

Kenya’s national carrier Kenya Airways (KQ) has entered into a partnership with the Kenya Tourism Board to promote Kenya as a tourist destination internationally, regionally, and locally. The partnership involves branding of two KQ aircrafts; a dreamliner and an embraer with images of Kenya’s most iconic species creating visibility as a must-visit destination across the airline’s network of 45 destinations. The imagery features the last two northern white rhinos in the world who live on Ol Pejeta Conservancy, the elephant tuskers from Amboseli National Park, and lions from Tsavo National Park.
Ol Pejeta Conservancy to host the seventh rhino cup to commemorate Sudan - the last male northern white rhino from Friday 17th June to Sunday 19th June 2022 to commemorate the life of Sudan, the last male northern white rhino.

Biorescue creates two new embryos in the race against time to prevent the extinction of the northern white rhinoceros.

Ol Pejeta's story is full of hope and possibility. This Eden of African wilderness is a reminder of how life began, humbling in its extraordinary beauty. In all its untouched glory, the Conservancy is both a piece of living history and a model for the future.

Finding practical solutions for wildlife conservation is at the forefront of everything we do. This includes ensuring that this wild space and everything in it can be of tangible benefit to the people who live alongside it, and the many challenges it brings.

Ultimately, we are working towards a future that might otherwise slip away in the fight for space and resources. A future where animals still roam free in nature, where they have been for millenia, and should always be. This critical work requires a huge amount of funding. Part of Ol Pejeta’s ethos is to ensure we generate commercial revenues for long-term sustainability, but the scope of our mission inevitably outweighs our revenue streams, and depends upon the kindness of our visitors and supporters. Donating to Ol Pejeta in any form is a vote for the world you want to live in.

Making conservation a financial and ethical priority is the only way that this very special corner of the world is around for future generations to enjoy. Visit either of our adoption centres - at Sweetwaters Chimpanzee Sanctuary or Morani’s Information Centre - to learn more about our donation options.
